YOUNG WOMAN TELLS TROUBLES TO COURT

Husband Says She Did All the Love
Making--He Was Kind to Her-- Witness Causes Sensation.

Following the damaging testimony against her husband by a witness who told of his actions in Portsmouth, Judge Jenney of the Boston divorce court has taken the case of Miss Marie Williamson, 18, who seeks divorce from Henry Ferris, alias Harry Adams under advisement. During the testimony offered by the girl on Wednesday, she claimed that she did not know what she was doing when she married the man.

She claimed among other things that Ferris or Adams as she first knew him, had represented to her that he was of white blood, when in fact he was of negro parentage. Judge Jenney's sympathies were apparently with the young girl, who was but 17 years of age when she went through a marriage ceremony with Adams before a justice of the peace.

After arguments in the case had been made, Judge Jenney said: "If I can conscientiously grant a divorce in this case I shall do so. I am not going to speak of what I think of this man, but a person who would do what he has done would lie upon the witness stand."

He then took the case under advisement.

When Ferris took the stand in his own behalf he declared that he did not know what his parentage was. He said that he had never been able to satisfy himself that those people of negro race who had claimed relationship to him were in fact relatives. His memory went no farther back than when he was about 14 years of age, he said. For the last five years he has made his home in Boston. He claimed to be a steel worker.

In regard to his relations with the young girl, he declared that they had been pure, if hugging and kissing could be called pure. He said that they had seen much of each other and that she had been wont to kiss him each morning when he left the house for work. He had brought flowers and candy to her, he said. On the day of their marriage she had dressed in her best and appeared delighted at the outcome of her romance. All the love making was initiated by her, he said. They were about to start for Lowell on a honeymoon when her mother intercepted and took the girl away.

A sensation was created when James B. Hayes who is connected with a local founding institution, took the stand and declared that Ferris was the father of two infants which had been received at the home. Both were colored, he said, and one of them had been adopted by a colored family.

cannot comply, were strengthened in official circles here today following the publication in this country and Germany of semi-official forecasts of the German reply. These reports as to the probable nature of Germany's demand, have created the opinion that long drawn out negotiations are in prospect and especially have dissipated hopes that Germany will yield to the demands of the Wilson note.

Mrs. Belle Hanson will entertain the Odd Ladies Sewing Circle at her home at Dover Point on Friday afternoon.

GERMANS CONTINUING TO PRESS ADVANTAGE OVER THE RUSSIANS

Captured and Killed Number One Hundred and Forty Thousand--Russians Bringing Up Heavy Reinforcements and Rallying Behind the San River

(Special to The Herald)

Berlin, via Amsterdam, May 20.—Every report from the German headquarters increases the magnificent victory of the Austro-German forces in Galicia. Today's dispatches state that the Russian command under General Dimitrief lost 140,000 men in killed, wounded and captured; 100 cannon and about 300 machine guns. The Russians have failed to break the German lines and General Dimitrief has ordered a retreat in the direction of the lower San.

All reports agree that the Russian forces have been so severely shaken and disorganized by their defeat that only a passive defense on the San is being maintained. All Russian units which can be spared from the other fronts are being transported to the San, where parts of twenty-three regiments are opposing the continued attacks of the German troops.

(Special to The Herald)

Vienna, May 20.—The Russian forces defeated in Galicia, heavily reinforced, have rallied behind the San river, and another great battle is developing, according to an official report received from the Austrian headquarters today. The Austro-German troops are holding the position they captured on the right bank of the River San, and have repulsed all counter assaults of the Russians. A dispatch received from Czernewitz states that the Austrians are still holding that city, although the Russians are bombarding their position.

GERMAN TRANSPORT SUNK
BY ENGLISH SUBMARINE
(Special to The Herald)

Geneva, May 20.—A Petrograd dispatch states that an English submarine had entered the Baltic Sea and torpedoed and sunk a German transport at Lebow.

SUSPECTED SPY IN ENGLAND COMMITTED SUICIDE
(Special to The Herald)

London, May 20.—Anton Ruepferle, who has been on trial since Tuesday, committed suicide during the night in Brixton jail by hanging. The body was found this morning by guards when his breakfast was being carried to his cell. Ruepferle had claimed that he was a citizen of the United States, living in Brooklyn. He was charged with communicating with and giving military and naval secrets to England's enemies.

TURKS CLAIM ANGLO-FRENCH FLEET DRIVEN OFF
(Special to The Herald)

Constantinople, via Berlin and Amsterdam, May 20.—The effective fire from the hidden Turkish batteries has forced the Anglo-French fleet to withdraw and abandon the bombardment of the Dardanelles forts, the war office announced today.

AUSTRIAN FLEET PUTS TO SEA.
(Special to The Herald)

Paris, May 20.—Dispatches from Milan received here today state that the Austrian fleet at Pola has sailed and will bombard Venice as soon as war is declared between Italy and Austria.

"GREEN BOOK" PRESENTED TO PARLIAMENT
(Special to The Herald)

Rome, May 20.—Parliament reconvened today with Rome aflame for war with Austria. As the senators and deputies gathered, great crowds marched through the streets of the city shouting, "Down with Austria." Ten thousand troops surrounded the parliament buildings.

The "Green Book" states that Italy remained faithful to the triple alliance pact, but declares that in the summer of 1914, Austria without accord, without Italy giving advice of moderation, sent an ultimatum to Serbia that caused the present war. Thus, the Green Book states, Austria broke the Italian status creating a situation profitable only to herself. Notwithstanding this, Italy endeavored to resume friendly relations with Austria, but the efforts failed.

ITALIAN ARMY MOVING.

(Special to The Herald)

Paris, May 20.—Dispatches from Milan this afternoon say that several Italian regiments have been dispatched to the eastern front. By "eastern front" is meant the Austrian frontier.

WAR DECLARED.

(Special to The Herald)

London, May 20.—A news agency dispatch received here this afternoon, but accepted with reserve, states that the Italian chamber of deputies in Rome voted in favor of war. A vote of 6 to 1 in support of hostilities against the Turco allies was passed by the chamber of deputies, this afternoon, the dispatch said.

SEVENTEEN SUBMARINES LOST BY GERMANY

Copenhagen, May 20.—It is learned from a high source that the German navy department admits that seventeen German submarines have been sunk since the beginning of the blockade in British waters.

PRESIDENT BACK IN WASHINGTON

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, May 20.—President Wilson returned to this city this morning from New York after the review of the Atlantic fleet. The Mayflower, with the chief executive on board, anchored at the navy yard at 6.30 o'clock after a leisurely trip up the Potomac during the night. The President remained on board until just before 8 o'clock. He gave the impression of being much refreshed by his New York visit and the sea trip.

July 4, which will take place at Rand's Grove, Rye. This will be the first pleasure party of its kind to be held by the parishioners of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in many years, when such gatherings took place annually at Pinkham's Grove, Dover Point. Committees from the young people of the parish are to have charge and already are at work on the arrangements, which will include everything that goes with a day of that kind to make it enjoyable for everybody who attends. As the Fourth of July falls on Sunday, the holiday will be celebrated on Monday.

WILL TAKE OFFICE JUNE 1

How Studebaker cars are built — Ignition

SURE steady firing at any speed

Magneto? No, sir! Better than that—the Studebaker-Wagner Electric System that's built to order for Studebaker Cars. Lots of cars, of course, are still using magnetos. But study of the leading cars at the Auto Shows disclosed that more than 52% of the high-grade cars are using a battery-ignition system.

And the reason is simply that electric-system ignition is better than the magneto. When the motor is turning fast, the magneto is satisfactory. But the minute you slow up on a grade or in city traffic the energy developed by the magneto weakens—and that is just when you need ignition energy most.

For when the motor is running at low speeds and the charge is highly compressed, it takes a hotter spark to fire it. And that's why Studebaker is using this battery-ignition system, which is not only simpler but MORE RELIABLE, because it insures maximum voltage at low speeds as well as at high speeds.

It guarantees SURE, steady firing. For the storage battery is ready to deliver the maximum voltage at all times. The motor doesn't skip or miss at low speed. And it PULLS steadily and tenaciously ALL the time the car is moving. Guarantees the CERTAINTY of operation that a man looks for in this car

-Because it's a

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS DEFEATED THE MARINES

Boys From the Yard Lost by Six to Three Score Last Evening

The Sunset League game last night won by the Knights of Columbus from the Naval Prison Marines, 6 to 3, was interesting all the way through even if it wasn't perfect base ball. A remarkable thing about the game was the absence of hits and although nine runs were scored in the game there was but four hits made, one going for extra bases. A feature of the game was two double plays made by the Marines, one in the second by Caster, and Tharau and the other in the third by Moll and Rohm. The good weather brought the fans out and there was considerable more rooting than has been in evidence at the earlier games this season. The crowd was fair and gave hearty applause when the play deserved it.

The Game

1st Inning.—J. Timmons hit the ball and Moll caught it for the first out. Wilkinson made the first hit and stole second, taking third when Moll dropped the throw from Rohm. Mercer and T. Timmons fanned. No runs.
Deleiden flied out to O'Brien. Cooper was passed; Lennon hit the ball and was safe on P. Timmons' error. Tharau sacrificed with a long fly to center, scoring Cooper. Caster was passed stealing second. Bogacki landed on one and was safe at first as Reardon attempted to catch the runner from third. He made a wild throw and Lennon and Caster both scored. Bogacki flied out. Eberhard was out. Horan flied out to Wilkinson. Three runs.
2nd Inning.—O'Brien was safe at first as Tharau dropped the throw. Reardon attempted to hit, but Moll, who was playing in for a supposed sacrifice, touched the ball, logging it and it was then spoiled for Deleiden. Both men were safe. They both advanced one base on a passed ball and Bailey went out on a high foul that Rohm grabbed. P. Timmons made first on Eberhard's error, both O'Brien and Reardon tagging. Horan hit one on the line that looked good for a minute but Caster nailed it, throwing bases, scoring Wilkinson and Timmons. Bailey was out. Eberhard to Tharau. Four runs.

Moll was presented with a free trip to first. Rohm was out when Bailey held the third foul tip. With the heavy end of the batting list up, Horan proved that he was "there" when he fanned Deleiden and Cooper.

3rd Inning.—J. Timmons was safe on Caster's error, when he touched the ball spilling it for Eberhard. Wilkinson knocked up a foul that Rohm caught and threw to Tharau for a double. Mercer struck out. No runs.
Cooper hit one just inside the first base line that Wilkinson picked up and touched first, setting credit for an assist and a put out on the one play. Lennon fouled out to Rohm. Tharau hit one to the pitcher and was thrown out at first. No runs.

4th Inning.—Caster struck out. T. Timmons, and hit. O'Brien with a pitched ball. O'Brien stealing second. Reardon fanned. Bailey walked. P. Timmons made the third out when Tharau caught his fly. No runs.

P. Timmons fumbled and Caster was safe at first, stealing second on a wild throw. Bogacki fanned but Bailey missed the third strike and Bogacki was "on." Caster taking third on the passed ball. Bogacki was out attempting to steal second. Bailey to Reardon. Bailey threw to third when Caster was taking too big a lead. J. Timmons muffed the throw and Caster started home, but P. Timmons recovered the ball and had it in Bailey's hands when Caster reached the plate. Eberhard was struck out. No runs.

5th Inning.—Rohm dropped the third strike but recovered the ball in time to retire Horan at first. J. Timmons made a single and pilfered second. Wilkinson hit to right field taking second on the throw to the plate. Timmons counting one. Wilkinson stole third. Mercer was safe on Deleiden's fielders choice, who made a bad throw home, however, and Wilkinson scored. Mercer taking second. Timmons sacrificed Moll to Tharau. O'Brien was safe on Eberhard's error, and stole second. Then Reardon fell on and to deep right field for three

PUBLIC GOLF COURSES

New York, May 19.—"More public golf courses!" is the cry of the ever-increasing army of golfers in every part of the United States, and it is likely that the big city governments will make answer by constructing additional courses for the use of the public.

In Greater New York where the golf fever is raging fiercely and corralling hundreds of new victims each day, there are only two public courses—one in Brooklyn and one in Manhattan Island. And there are at least 50,000 persons who want to use these courses which have a total normal capacity of less than 1000 games a day.

On Sundays the crowds start to arrive at the golf links around 5 o'clock in the morning. The City controls the parks and issues tickets that entitle the holder to play around once, but one's chance to get on the links depends upon one's early arrival.

One golfer arrived at Van Cortlandt Park at 6 a. m. on a recent Sunday. He thought he would be "an early bird." He found 75 golfers already on the course and more than 100 more in line waiting their turns. This golfer finally got his chance to play at 12 o'clock—a wait of six hours. In disgust he quit playing at 3 p. m. after negotiating 10 holes in three hours owing to the crowded condition of the course.

In every other city of Metropolitan nature where there are public courses there are at least a hundred times as many golfers as there is room in the links. But the Municipal authorities are awakening. They realize at last that golf has become a game of the masses, as well as the classes now. They realize that it has as many, probably more, players than baseball, and before another year comes around some new municipal golf links courses may have come into being.

Here are a few remarks on golf by Miss Alma Whitaker of the Los Angeles Examiner, who knows golf as few know it, and who can express it in a way that is wonderful:—"The golf devotee solemnly assured you that golf is a facsimile of the game of life, and he knows whereof he speaks.

"Physical perfection is of little account in golf. A mighty arm that can drive a ball within the limits of the straight and narrow pathway counts for less than the weaker stroke that sacrifices distance for accuracy.

"In golf it is yourself against the world. Not yourself against a mortal opponent. Both he and you are striving to overcome the obstacles and difficulties which nature has placed in your path.

"Golf brings home poignantly the need for self-control, self-confidence, mental orderliness, spiritual peace. To attain the goal the mind must be concentrated with solemn earnestness upon the matter in hand.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

New York, May 19.—Robert Oakes, and his pinch hitting ability, are among the main reasons for the great showing of the Pittsburgh Federals to date.

Oakes never was a clutter of the Colby, Jackson type, but Oakes, while with the St. Louis Cardinals, ranked as one of the most timely hitters in the business. And this season, despite the fact that he has managerial worries to hamper him, he is lacing off drives whenever a drive means a run.

In the first 21 games of the Federal League season, Oakes scored 18 runs with wallops at timely moments—a record far beyond that of most of the other major league players. Oakes has been hitting at a 450 clip to date but when every clutch has been made nearly it was needed the most—a knock that causes Oakes to be ranked among the most valuable men in baseball.

Jerome Beatty who writes poems and prose for the New York Evening Mail, recently unceremoniously, shortly after the running of the Evening Mail's marathon in which several hundred youths were entered:

"What is this all about?" asked a shocked old lady as she looked at the marathon runners—in extremely modified attire—As they raced along Fifth Avenue.

"A new law went into effect today," explained a facetious bystander. "It's this new eugenics thing. All prospective bridegrooms have to pass a physical test, and these are young men going to the city hall to get their marriage licenses."

"My, my!" gaped the old lady. "How science does progress."

An old man stood beside her watching the half-dressed young men pass. "Over what course?" he inquired timidly. "Do the women run?"

The pitching joke of 1914—and the pitching sensation of 1915. That's Guy Morton, who twirls for the Cleveland Indians.

Last season Morton worked in about 25 games. He was charged with 15 defeats and credited with just one lone victory.

"Can him!" was the order of the Cleveland fans. "Nix!" said Joe Birmingham, the managerial gent. "That Morton will rank as a wonder in 1915. If he gets any support, things broke badly for him in 1914."

Morton has justified Birmingham's confidence in him. He won 5 out of his first six games and the one he lost was because of a faltering defense. Three of his victories have been shutouts.

Morton, whose home is in Alabama, played with Waterbury, Conn., early in 1914. He is a husky youth, with a world of speed and a marvelous assortment of curves. And he has brains.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED AND SORE FEET

"TIZ" for puffed-up, burning, aching, calloused feet and corns.

Why go limping around with aching puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a 25-cent box of "TIZ" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet?

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe-tightness—no more foot torture.

by putting the Chicagoans in the penultimate fight, made these few remarks recently:

"I consider that the player is as important as the manager. I never due a ball player, but show him his wrongs.

"The closing hour for my players is 11.30 o'clock.

"Be a friend of the newspaper boys. They can help you.

"Pull 'em together; don't spread 'em apart, if you want to win.

"Give the kids a chance, and don't rely too much on the broken-down stars.

"I love a fighter and an aggressive player, but I don't tolerate rowdiness.

"There's not much difference in managing a major league club and a minor league club."

INTERNATIONAL TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Oakland, Calif., May 20.—Maurice McLoughlin, the world's greatest tennis player, is planning for next winter an International indoor tennis tournament, to be played in the new $1,000,000 Municipal Auditorium in Oakland.

McLoughlin, who lives in Oakland, keeps in practice all the year round. During two months when the rains come, he finds difficulty in getting practice, and has been looking for a suitable place to put up winter courts.

The Auditorium, recently opened, and in which 100 conventions will be held this summer, is, according to McLoughlin, an ideal place for winter tennis. The floor is of maple, and with a canvas covering would make a swift court. The floor in the arena is 244 by 90 feet giving plenty of room for laying out the court.

"An International indoor tournament would be a big success, and I hope to see my in Oakland next winter," said McLoughlin today. "I have been in correspondence with a number of the best men in the game and a majority of them agree with me that such an event would be not only a novelty but a successful venture. The court would be faster than an outdoor court, and tennis records would be made that would set a standard for a long time to come. Oakland's warm winter weather would make the conditions practically ideal."

McLoughlin has taken the matter up with the Oakland City Officials and has been assured that there will be no objection to the use of the Auditorium for such a purpose.

104,000 Men

In the jungles and fields, in our factories, etc., 104,000 men are employed to meet the demand for Goodyear tires.

No other tire commands anywhere near such favor. And this spring has shown, in sales to dealers, an increase of 52 per cent.

three conspicuous improvements.

Some Goodyear supremacies can be seen at a glance. Compare size and thickness with the average tire. Compare number of fabric plies.

Prices Down

Goodyear has made in about two years three great price reductions, totaling 45 per cent. The last was on February 1st. Our matchless output enables a value which no other maker can duplicate.

Goodyears mean less trouble, less upkeep. That is proved by our exclusive features, our dominant place, and the swelling Goodyear tide. We urge you to join this army. Any dealer will supply you.

Extra Values

The reason is, we fortify our tires. We give the best that others give, plus five exclusive features. In costly ways, employed by no one else, we combat:

Rim-Cuts
Blowouts
Loose Treads
Insecurity
Punctures
Skidding

And we never skimp. Despite all price reductions, Goodyears are better than ever. Lately we have added:

Why Pay Extra for Dried-Up Tobacco?

That's what you do when you buy chopped-up tobacco in tins, bags or foil. Real tobacco flavor depends upon the leaf being preserved in its natural state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug form and keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco escape when cut or granulated.

Take a Plug of Sickle that is even thoroughly dried out so that when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it will burn and smoke smooth and cool as it has all of its original tobacco flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form.

Whittling a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid in both quality and quantity. Try this experiment and judge for yourself.

Plenty of Work Now.

A paper published in a city in which during the winter there was a great deal of shouting about unemployment, accompanied by the opening of soup kitchens and all that sort of thing, announces a practically complete reversal of conditions and says: jobs are now being offered faster than applications for work come in. Instead of men looking for work, people having work to be done are looking for men.

And what is true of that city is undoubtedly true of other cities. The situation is easy to understand. At this time of the year in particular there is always work for every man able and willing to work. The farmers want help, the people of the cities and villages are cleaning up their premises and the road authorities are calling for able-bodied men on the highways. It is the rush season of the year for painters and paper hangers, and building mechanics are apt to be in demand at this season. On the land, on the roads and in and upon buildings there is always plenty of work in the spring, and consequently it is not surprising to learn that there is now employment for all willing workers everywhere. It would be surprising if such were not the case.

There may be exceptions here and there due to local conditions, but this is the busy season and the labor market everywhere feels the impetus. Wages are good and there is no reason why the next six months, at least, should not be a season of great industry and prosperity in all parts of the country.

Recognizing that there were hardships in numerous cities last winter, and with no disposition to be uncharitable, this paper still believes, as it did at the time, that the cry of unemployment was overworked and that conditions were not as bad as they were represented to be. Every man of experience and observation knows that even a poor excuse suffices to keep many men idle, and when there is such a furor over "conditions" as there was last winter it makes it easy for those who do not want work to remain idle, and to justify their idleness to a certain extent.

The trouble is past and its repetition should be guarded against by all classes. Workers should learn the lesson of frugality and make some provision for the dull season, and employers now have the opportunity to learn who is willing to work and who is not. By proper observation they can place themselves in a position to guard against imposition, and this they should do.

A Pennsylvania couple were recently offered $100,000 for their young child, whom a millionaire wanted to adopt, but they refused the offer and declared they would do so if it were indefinitely multiplied. They were capable of placing the baby above the dollar. But wouldn't it be a joke if raising babies for the market should one day become an American industry?

A man who has recently been mixing in high society in Chicago reports that drinking and cigarette smoking are very prevalent among the women. But as he is an agent of the "wet" propaganda it may be in order to make some allowance for his assertions, though the fact that the vices mentioned do obtain to some extent in the "best circles" is very generally known.

William Watson, the English poet, criticizes Great Britain for being too slow and easy-going in this war. He considers this no time for "apathy, sluggishness or fatal optimism." Such criticism coming from one of her own great men must be something of a jolt to the "mistress of the seas."

The White House chauffeur who was arrested for oversteering the auto in which the president's private secretary was riding may safely be set down as the man who put the tumult in Tumulty. And in spite of his exalted position the man was fined $5.00.

Whatever else comes from the jitney 'bus enterprise, it has certainly developed a good sized problem. And this at a time when there was no dearth of problems, of which there usually is a good supply in this country.

Wisconsin's anti-tipping bill has been vetoed by the governor, who knows that the cure of the tipping evil rests in the people's hands. There is no legitimate call for law to do what the people can do without law.

Billy Sunday objects to being called a grafter and brands every man who calls him one a "dirty, malicious, black-hearted liar." Rather elevating language to come from the pulpit.

CURRENT OPINION

American Business Men
Must Stamp Out
Unfair Dealing.

In the bureau of standards I saw a large sample of wool waste which was sold to the Panama canal. It was, as a matter of course, submitted to us for a technical inquiry. It proved to be half wool and the other half partly hemp, partly jute and partly other things.

When will some body of American business men put the stamp of discreditation upon that sort of procedure?

And one thing more on this same theme: What will you do, practically do, to stop the crooked manifests, incomplete manifests, things concealed, things painted to resemble other things? Why must it be necessary to have one crook throw a shadow upon all American commerce? One man omitting from his manifest the things he does not desire to be seen may do infinite harm to a hundred honorable gentlemen in American commerce.

I hope the United States chamber of commerce and every body representative of the honor of America will say these things ought not so to be and will condemn them not by silence, but by speech and action.—By William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce.

LOCAL CLEANINGS

Rev. C. A. Parker of Newcastle, in speaking of the horrors of the war, told me on Wednesday that he has a brother fighting with the crack Highlanders of Canada. He has received several letters from him telling of the extreme hardships.

The retirement of Judge Harry K. Torrey as the head of the local municipal court causes the men at headquarters to say many kind things about him. He has been a faithful justice and has given the office his constant attention and every man brought before him has been given justice in every sense of the word. Judge Torrey will leave his position with the satisfaction of knowing that he has performed his duty with credit at all times.

The Boston Sunday Herald contained an interesting article on Sunday last about our distinguished fellow citizen, Col. John Pender, who served in the legislature 47 years ago. The Colonel is to retire from active business in a year and then will give some time to historic subjects. He is at the present time preparing an article on county statistics that will be of interest.

It is a crime to allow the city to be defaced by so many unsightly billboards. The use of the shade trees to back up advertising signs should be stopped by the proper authorities and the police and city council should have closer relationship. In this connection it may not be out of place to ask: What has become of our once useful Portsmouth Improvement Society?

The entire population of Portsmouth and vicinity are talking about the wonderful vaudeville shows presented at the Portsmouth Theatre. One of the local bank men remarked on Wednesday: "I attended Keith's Palace Theatre in Boston with Captain Hill of the navy and was surprised to see the wonderful animal actors that I saw there with other acts at the local theatre for ten cents." There are some fine attractions looked for the early summer.

The citizens of Newcastle certainly are going to be given every facility for travel the coming summer, and quite a choice. Whether it is by boat line, auto bus or barge, there will be every convenience as regards running time, etc.

MEDICAL MEN IN SESSION

The New Hampshire Medical Society held its annual meeting at Concord on Wednesday with a large attendance of members from all parts of the state. Several of the local physicians were present, three of whom were elected to office.

New committees on tuberculosis and to study the problem of the dependent, defective and delinquent children and feeble-minded women of child-bearing age were created.

Other departures included a decision to investigate the matter of a medical defense against fake suits against doctors for alleged malpractice, which was placed in the hands of the house of delegates. The meeting was well attended.

Senator Edgar O. Crossman of Lisbon was elected president, succeeding Dr. Herbert K. Faulkner of Keene. The officers elected are the following:

President, Edgar O. Crossman, Lisbon; vice president, Edmund Britz, Manchester; secretary, D. E. Sullivan, Concord; treasurer, D. M. Currier, Newport; trustee, H. L. Smith, Nashua; Allynbrook county counselor, R. I. Graves, Concord; Hillsborough county counselor, T. L. Kittredge, Nashua; delegate to American Medical Society, C. W. Hamford, Portsmouth; alternate, R. J. Graves, Concord; anniversary chairman, J. H. Neal, Portsmouth; neurologist, E. B. Graves, delegate to American conference on education, John M. Gile, Haverhill; delegate to American conference on public health, Irving D. Watson, Concord; committee on tuberculosis, J. M. Wise of Glencliff, R. B. Kerr of Pembroke, C. O. Coburn of Manchester; anniversary committee, Edgar O. Crossman of Lisbon, Fred A. Towle of Portsmouth, A. K. Day of Concord; legislative committee, Chas. Duncan and H. H. Amason, Concord.

The doctors were welcomed to the city by Mayor Charles J. French, and Dr. Russell Wilkins, president of the Center district society, extended the greeting of the local physicians.

The annual banquet was served at the Eagle tonight. Dr. John H. Gleason was the anniversary chairman, and the toasts included: "The New Hampshire Medical Society," Dr. Herbert K. Faulkner; "The State of New Hampshire," Governor Roland H. Spaulding; "Law and Medicine," Hon. D. Arthur Taggart, Manchester; "The Healing Art," Rev. Godfrey M. Brinley, St. Paul's school; "The Surgeon at Play," Dr. William Seaman Baldwin of New York; "America's Neutrality," Arthur B. Jenks of Manchester.

PEOPLES' OPINION

Kittery Point, Me., May 20, 1915.

Editor: What wonderful dogs there are in this town according to your paper. I cannot understand why "Carlo" the canine egg collector has not long before this been placed with some leading dog show of the country. You do not state in your story what eventually becomes of the eggs that the dog robs from the coops and leaves at a grocery store in the town. Can it be possible that his dogship and the grocer are trading and cornering the egg market? It seems that Carlo could be taught a little in the culinary art and add more laurels to his career by preparing and serving up the bird food for breakfast.

DEFENSE PROBLEM OF THE NATION

Secretary of War Garrison Speaks on "Why We Should Arm."

(Special to the Herald)

Lake Mohawk, New York, May 20.—The United States must arm immediately if it is to keep its place among the nations, Secretary of War, Lindley M. Garrison told the pacifists gathered for the annual conference of international arbitration gathered here in a brilliant speech, carefully argued and brilliant with striking epigrams.

He declared the real problem of American national defense is to get the people to look the facts squarely in the face. Only a united nation can accomplish anything in aiming for the conflict which is bound to come sooner or later.

We will be deceived among the nations of the earth and our righteousness will not save us from the aggressions of the unrighteous if we remain weak and flabby, he declared. We must be ready to make war, in order to keep the blessings of peace, he said. Self-preservation is the first law of a nation.

"A nation to deserve preservation must be sane, just, righteous, self-respecting and courageous," he continued. "Since it only obtained those virtues by conflict of one sort or another, it can only retain them and thus insure its own preservation by being prepared in every proper way to defend them from the inevitable assaults which will be made against them."

"At first blush it seems amazing that there could be widespread inattention on the part of our people to this matter which so vitally and intimately concerns them, and quite as amazing that there could be disagreement as to certain fundamental considerations, and confusion of thought and judgment with respect to them. There is, however, just such inattention, resulting in neglect of the subject, and just such confusion of thought and division of counsel, and we must face that situation and deal with it as it is. Until most of us think alike on this subject, there is no hope of a proper settlement of it."

Some of Mr. Garrison's points were as follows:

"The real problem of national defense is how to get the people of this country to look the facts squarely in the face."

"Turning aside won't do—it will not only not prevent the calamity, but will also serve to make its effects more disastrous when it does come."

"No sound reason can be adduced which would justify a sane man in concluding that isolation alone spells safety."

"Nor can sure reliance be placed upon our lack of aggressive intention, our freedom from covetousness, or our tendency toward righteousness."

"Self-reliance, without which man is not an invulnerable animal requires that we should be prepared to protect that which we cherish, which not only includes our material possessions, but that intangible something which makes us a distinctive nation in the eyes of the world."

"Hideous as is the face of war, abhorrent as are the evils consequent upon it, its results in the long run cannot be so fatal to a nation as would be the failure of that nation to courageously and fearlessly ascertain its duty and do it."

"We are surely not so deluded as to believe that we can reach by intuition what others can only acquire by training and experience. We are surely not so sacrilegious or irreverent as to believe that Providence has unjustly discriminated in our favor and against the other peoples of the world."

"American institutions are the very Ark of the Covenant; and we are worthy to possess them, we must show that we cherish them and will protect and defend them."

In his closing words he told his hearers that it needed sound minds and stout hearts to decide this great question of militarism.

"Militarism is the sense of the absolute necessity of proper military precautions and military preparations. This is the very subject matter for consideration; it is the imperative question of decision and it needs stout hearts and sound minds to decide it."

"We are surely not so deluded as to believe that we can reach by intuition what others can only acquire by training and experience. We are surely not so sacrilegious or irreverent as to believe that Providence has unjustly discriminated in our favor, and against the other peoples of the world."

"We surely will not admit that any vital national duty will be neglected and left undone because we shrink from the proper contemplation of it. We surely will not admit that we are unable to read history intelligently, to consider facts relevantly and to reach conclusions sensibly."

"We, as a nation are exceptionally set apart only in one respect, namely the freedom of our people under our institutions to develop and expand and make the most of themselves without fetters or restrictions. This was the great and momentous contribution of the founders of our Republic to the question of human government. It was epochal and of tremendous import. It means more to the future welfare of mankind than any other existing political fact. The institutions are the very Ark of the Covenant, and if we are worthy to possess them, we must show that we cherish them and will protect and defend them."

RYE DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS COMEDY

"Billy the Blunderbuss" Scores Big Hit at Rye Town Hall on Wednesday Evening.

Rye Town Hall was packed to its capacity on Wednesday evening, the occasion being the presentation of "Billy the Blunderbuss," by the Fraternal Dramatic Club of that town.

"Billy the Blunderbuss" was a very clever three act comedy, with the most laughable situations.

It was quite unusual in the dramatic line and different from the dramas usually presented. The cast of characters presented was as follows:

Ezra Tuttle, a rich mine owner,.....

Billy Butler, always in trouble,.....

Mr. Ernest Seavey,.....

Mr. Percy Moulton,.....

Leat. Griswold, from the Presidio,.....

Reservation, Mr. Philip Tucker,.....

Sing Toy, a Chinese servant,.....

Mr. Gay Caswell,.....

Hank Dibble, an Old Salt,.....

Mr. Everett Seavey,.....

Dorothy Tuttle, Ezra's daughter,.....

Mrs. Nellie B. Seavey,.....

Miss Lizette B. Seavey,.....

Miss Florence E. Tucker,.....

Act I. Reception room in the Strathmore Hotel, Alameda, California,.....

Act II. Same as Act I. Afternoon,.....

Act III. Same as Act I. Evening,.....

Ernest Tucker as Ezra Tuttle, a rich mine owner, unaccustomed to society but a true scout of the west, did his part excellently and deserves much credit.

Percy Moulton as Billy the Blunderbuss, enacted his peculiarly absurd role in a most creditable manner and the audience agreed that he outdid himself this time behind the amateur footlights. His mistakes made the fun of the play.

Philip Tucker, who appeared as the lieutenant, a soldier of Dorothy, did credit to himself in this role.

Gay Caswell as Sing Toy, was a most faithful Chinese servant and his peculiarities added much to the comedy.

Everett Seavey as Hank Dibble, the sailor, appeared in an entirely different kind of part than ever before, and his interpretation of the intoxicated sailor was very well done.

Mrs. Nellie B. Seavey as Dorothy, was especially pretty and graceful in this part, and as at all other appearances, won much applause from the audience.

Mrs. Jazette B. Seavey in her part as Mrs. Burnham, was a decided success and the scenes created by her were especially enjoyed by the audience.

Miss Florence E. Tucker who appeared in a still different part, as Woye San, the Japanese maid, made a very pretty appearance and adds another success to the score of character parts which she has already enacted.

Her Japanese manners and dialect were very marked and her costumes were real Japanese costumes, the property of Mrs. Wilbur Marden, who wore them during her stay in Japan several years ago.

The new scenery which recently arrived from the New York studios was used, and much favorable comment was heard in regard to it. The setting was a very pretty parlor scene.

The new scenery was secured by the efforts of the Fraternal Dramatic Club and adds greatly to the value of the hall in many respects.

It is very gratifying to the club that so large a number responded Wednesday evening and helped by their co-operation to clear the debt of the new stage settings. Much credit is due Ernest Tucker whose indefatigable work as the president of the club contributed in such success.

The committees in charge were as follows:

Music—Mrs. Nellie B. Seavey, Miss Lucy Marden.

Cake and candy—Mrs. Alice Chandler, Miss Lucy Marden.

The tables were in charge of the following attendants:

Ice cream—Mr. Russell Sawyer.

Cake—Mrs. Russell Sawyer.

Candy—Mrs. Alice Chandler, Miss Ardelle Marston, Mrs. Annie Fitz, Miss Lucy Marden.

Mrs. Wilbur Marden acted as coach.

Mr. Wilbur Marden acted as stage manager.

Mr. Irving Rand acted as property man.

Mr. Joseph Seavey was in the box office and Mr. Thomas C. Chandler took tickets.

The Boy Scouts acted as ushers.

Music was furnished by Chester D. Drake, drums; Frederick Reib, piano; They played during the entertainment and dance. Mrs. Arthur Fritz assisted as pianist.

Dancing was enjoyed until midnight when late cars conveyed the people to their homes.

Among those present from Portsmouth were: Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Aiche, Messrs. Victor Boss, Willis Goodwin, Roy Macdonald, Emerson Locke, Abdon Ham, John Long, Percy Sides, Alford Gardner, Harry Sidesberg, Misses Florence Day, Ethel Day, Estelle Edwards and Edna Sides.

There was also a large representation from Hampton, North Hampton, and Greenland.

"DOPE" CONCEALED IN MECHANICAL TOP SOLD TO GIRLS

New York, May 19.—Concealed in mechanical tops, cocaine has been sold to a score or more girls attending a public school in the Washington Heights district, it was learned today, following the arrest of Dr. James Kling. In the doctor's handsomely furnished apartment the police found $5000 worth of dope—cocaine, morphine and heroin.

Killing confessed, according to the police, that he had been selling the dope to schoolgirls. He concealed the drug in mechanical tops, the heads of which lifted out. The police say Kling also admitted he had disposed of $200,000 worth of dope to dealers here in the past few weeks.

The police charge it was through his drug store in Pittsburgh that he was able to buy huge quantities of the drug.

BOSTON LETTER

Boston, May 19.—New England is now benefiting greatly by the European war. Within the past few weeks several large contracts have been given New England firms and tons of ammunition are being shipped almost daily to New York for shipment abroad. One of the largest manufacturing plants in Boston is at the present time turning out hundreds of parts each day to be used in shrapnel shells are being manufactured by the several armies of the allies. One firm has the contract for turning out the brass fuse heads for the shells. There are two contracts one for $750,000 and the other for $350,000. Owing to the inability to fill these big contracts in their present large plant this firm has started an additional factory 60 by 80 which will be two stories high. The army of unemployed among the machinists have benefited by the sudden boom of business, for all the help that can be secured is now being put to work on these big war contracts.

The governor has said on the matter of taxation that the legislature will have to go on record on its taxation measures anyway, which would suggest that the governor wants that record to wave about next fall as a real live issue. More and more the evidences of the governor's intention to run for another term are appearing.

Yesterday marked the windup of Clinton White's service on the public service commission, for he reached his 70th birthday and was retired under the general retirement law. It is now up to the governor to fill the vacancy on the most important commission in the state service at present, and the suggestions that will be made will be plentiful.

An old portrait of John L. Bates, governor of Massachusetts from 1900 to 1903, has been received at the state house and placed in the reception hall of the executive department. The painting, by W. W. Churchill, 126 Boston artist, who completed the portrait of former Governor W. Murray Crane begun by Vinton and is after the famous Vinton school.

Miss Mary H. Ladd has been re-elected president of the New England Women's Club. The other leading officers are: recording secretary, Mrs. Frank A. Morrill; corresponding secretary, Miss Harriet A. Tobey; treasurer, Mrs. Lillas Folger; historian, Miss Julia A. Sprague.

The statement of Mayor Curley against the corporate franchise tax bill of Governor Walsh was expected, for Corporation Counsel John A. Sullivan had already appeared before the committee on taxation to oppose this, and it was known that he would like to get out a further statement on the matter.

GEORGE NASH IN "THE THREE OF HEARTS" AT THE WILBUR THEATRE, BOSTON, NEXT WEEK, OPENING MONDAY

"The Three of Hearts," a new play by Martha Morton, author of "The Senator Keeps House," "A Bachelor's Romance," "The Diplomat," and other well known successes will be presented at the Wilbur Theatre next week, beginning Monday evening, May 24th, with Mr. George Nash as a star and a supporting company including Julia May, Blanche Yurka, Ethel Winthrop, Sylvester Ladd, William Deveraux, Robert Rogers, G. M. Takahashi, Cecil Maguire and others. Miss Morton has written a play of love and adventure, which is unique not only so far as the story is concerned, but the manner in which she deploys the various characters.

Marry Hamilton, a middle aged man of great wealth, falls in love with Grace Maythorne from Virginia. He might succeed were it not for the presence of Dick Constable, who professes to be madly infatuated with Miss Maythorne, who returns mildly the sentiment. Dick turns out to be a worthless character who robs anyone with whom he comes in contact. His mother is an estimable woman, and at one time had been courted by Hamilton, therefore, instead of exposing the boy or sending him to jail which he could easily have done, he decides to save him, not so much for himself as to guard the feelings of his mother and Miss Maythorne.

This little circle attends a dance at the Shadow Brook Hunt Club, and Dick as usual, sets out to pinch as much jewelry as his nimble fingers can get hold of. Soon there is an alarm and the local police take possession of the club house. Hamilton tells Dick and the girl to make their escape by way of the cellar, but they are caught and brought back to the dance room, but here again the carelessness of Hamilton shows itself, because he suddenly enters the room declaring that he is hungry, chief of New York detectives. The local constable appreciating the importance of the case has telephoned Haggerty so that Hamilton's statement doesn't arouse suspicion.

He takes charge of affairs, dismisses everyone, and sends the local police out into the rain to guard the various crossroads. Then he calls in the secretary who binds and gagging Constable and recovers the jewelry. By and by the real Haggerty arrives, but Hamilton meanwhile has made his escape. This indeed is a pretty mess, especially for the local police, and as they are wrangling, Hamilton appears as suddenly as he has vanished. Constable declares that he Hamilton, is the real thief, and everyone is ready to believe that he is except the audience, of course, because they have been let in the secret. However Hamilton has great difficulty in convincing Miss Maythorne of his good intentions and his innocence, and even after things seem to be coming his way she stubbornly holds back but when she finally sees his true character and realizes the sacrifice he has made to save her feelings and to prevent exposure and perhaps ruination for the boy as well as herself she yields to his tender importunities, and Miss Morton finishes her play with wedding bells not far distant.

GIRLS' CLUB NOTES

The Girls' Club dance of Wednesday evening was a great success.

This Thursday evening at 7 o'clock the entertainment committee will meet with the chairman to discuss plans for the character party to be held the last of the month. After the committee meeting, all girls who desire may play games and enjoy a general social time.

Cooking class will be held at 7 o'clock on Friday evening. On Monday evening the last class in dancing will be held and Miss Laigh ton has planned a good-time party, with favors for everyone. There will be special exhibition dancing as well as general dancing. All girls who have ever been members of this class are cordially invited to attend and a good time is assured.

EMERGENCY RELIEF WORK

During the summer months an opportunity will be given the women of Portsmouth who are interested in helping the wounded in the European war to make bandages and other hospital supplies.

Weekly meetings will be held at the Unitarian chapel which has been loaned for the purpose and the first meeting will be held Monday, May 24, at 11 a. m., when Miss Fletcher, a nurse trained in the work, will be present to give instruction. The work is under the auspices of the Woman's Department of the National Cure Recreation, New England section.

All women interested in this important work are most cordially invited to be present.

GERMANY SENDS FRYE SINKING TO A PRIZE COURT

Washington, May 19.—Germany has sent to a prize court the case of the American sailing ship William P. Frye sunk in the South Atlantic last January, by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, but it is understood the German admiralty took that action before it had received the American note, insisting that the damages be adjusted directly through diplomatic adjustment.

It is said by officials here that the reference of the case to a prize court will not necessarily prevent diplomatic adjustment.

FOES YET FRIENDS

Mid scenes in which the brave man bleaches, With dead and dying here and there, Between the scuffed battle trenches, A German and a Frenchman were Together lying, Wounded badly.

These erstwhile foes lay side by side Where but some hours before so madly Had surged the crimson battle tide.

And he who never had asked for quarter

When battle raged, in husky tone Called feebly for a drop of water.

To moisten lips now pallid grown, The Frenchman, moaning as he lifted His mangled body from the clay, His own position slowly shifted.

To help the foe that near him lay.

And after long and weary striving,

That wrung the pain from either limb,

He gave the German the reviving, Cool nectar that meant life to him,

From a canteen which had been battered To e'en a semblance of the thing,

And there was blood profusely spattered Upon it, from the vital spring.

The Frenchman's hand the German grasped,

With all a Stoic's fortitude,

Thus told, as did the voice so rasping, That all his rancor was subdued.

"I thank you, Frenchman," said he kindly,

"For what you have now done for me."

And they who would have striven blindly To kill each other, previously,

Felt not a pang of hatred rankle Within the bosom, lying low;

The pain of shattered arm or ankle Made either one forget a foe.

"Let us be friends," the Frenchman muttered,

"We cannot fight 'em if we would," A single word the German uttered,

In weary voice; 'twas simply "Good."

Hand clasping hand, no more was spoken,

So weak from loss of blood—so broken—

In silence, side by side, they lay; And later, when the day was closing,

An ambulance returning, found Them there, unconsciously reposing,

Hands clasping, on the sodden ground.

IT IS NOW JUDGE GUPTILL

Judge Ernest L. Guptill

MANY PLEASED AT APPOINTMENT

Mr. Guptill Receiving Congratulations From His Friends.

County Solicitor Ernest L. Guptill has been busy all day answering phone calls of congratulations on his appointment to justice of the municipal court of Portsmouth. The appointment of Mr. Guptill to the police bench by the governor has pleased the majority of the residents of this city as it is known that Mr. Guptill will exercise his wide sense of justice and will take to the bench with him his vast knowledge of the law.

Judge Guptill will be given a complimentary dinner at the Elks Home on next Wednesday evening.

TAX RATE TO BE $22.60

Increase Due to Increase in Appropriations.

The board of assessors today announced the tax rate for 1915 which is $22.60 on a thousand. This is an increase of 60 cents over the rate of 1914 due to the appropriation made by the city council which is $245,292.32, or $8,203.46 more than the appropriation of 1914, which was $237,088.86. Going back to the figures of 1910 and other years, it appears that the city is spending nearly $40,000 more than in the past.

Governor Spaulding Nominated Him Wednesday Afternoon--Confirmed Immediately--A Lawyer of Ability and Most Efficient County Solicitor.

Ernest L. Guptill was nominated as Justice of the Portsmouth Municipal Court Wednesday afternoon by Governor Spaulding and the nomination was confirmed at a special meeting of the council at 3.45 p. m. Mr. Guptill will succeed Judge Harry K. Torrey who was appointed under the Feltner administration and whose term ends automatically when the new Judge is sworn into office.

Mr. Guptill took his present office as county solicitor of Rockingham county April 1, 1911, and is one of the most popular and able members of the state bar, as well as a citizen held in high esteem.

He was born in Berwick, Me., March 5, 1867, a son of Albert J. and Adelaide J. (Roberts) Guptill. His early education was gained in Berwick Academy, and when only 18 years old he began the study of law in the office of William H. Pierce in Somersworth. In October, 1888, he was admitted to the practice of law in Maine and in the following year became a member of the New Hampshire bar. In the fall of 1888 he came to this city and began practice. He early took a deep interest in politics, as a member of the Republican party.

In 1890 he was elected city solicitor, and again in 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, and in 1903-4. In 1893 he represented Ward 2 in the legislature, being a member of the committee of revision of statutes, and also serving on the committee that arranged for New

RESOLUTION PASSED RECENTLY BY THE SOUTHERN CONFERENCE FOR EDUCATION AND INDUSTRY

"Resolved, That a large educational work can only be accomplished in the shortest possible time with the enthusiasm and the help of the whole people;

"That the mother-sex should take, in this generation, as it has done throughout the past, its necessary and important part in the education of the young;

"That the South needs today in her educational problem the help of every woman in the South, rendered in the most effective way."

Not only for their children's education do the women of the South need the ballot; they need it to secure their children's health, their children's safety; and they need it for themselves. They need full political enfranchisement.
